"THE LITTLE PAPER"

VOLUME 1 NUMBER 5

BUST THE DEALERS . . . CALL 941-DOPE

by Beverly McAnally

When politicians start talking about the crime problem in any community the handiest solution is to talk about hiring more police officers. Certainly, having a sufficient amount of law enforcement personnel is crucial. However, the community support for that police department is what makes the difference, and money can't buy that kind of involvement.

To help the public to better communicate with the police department, a new weapon in fighting drug dealers has been put in place at the Romulus Police Department. It depends on you, the eyes and ears of the community, to be effective. I'm talking about the Drug Hot Line, 941-DOPE, where any citizen with information can call, remain anonymous if they wish, and furnish information about any activity that they feel is suspicious.

A recorder, purchased with drug forfeiture money, will tape your message and the information will become the basis for an investigation. You may, of course, leave your name and phone number if you want to become more actively involved in stamping out drug activity in our city. In either case, the important part is that you be ready when you call to provide some specifics: license-plate numbers, addresses, descriptions, names or any other information that will assist our DRANO officers in carrying out their investigation.

It is important for you to know, also, that you may not see an immediate effect from your call. Contrary to popular impression, the police cannot take action without proof and have to build a firm case before they can take effective action. It may take weeks to observe the situation, determine who is involved and to secure the proper warrants.

Meanwhile, you can help by continuing to observe and reporting your observances to the 941-DOPE line. Working together, we can make drug deals so unprofitable in Romulus that it will cease. Remember, money is at the bottom of it all; don't help this vicious exploitation continue due to your unwillingness to help.

Citizens' involvement is the most important element in any crime-control program and Romulus is an illustration of that premise. Crime has taken a 20% dip since the Neighborhood Watch and other citizen-assist programs have been implemented.

WADSWORTH SAYS NO TO 255 MONUMENT

by D. A. Atkins

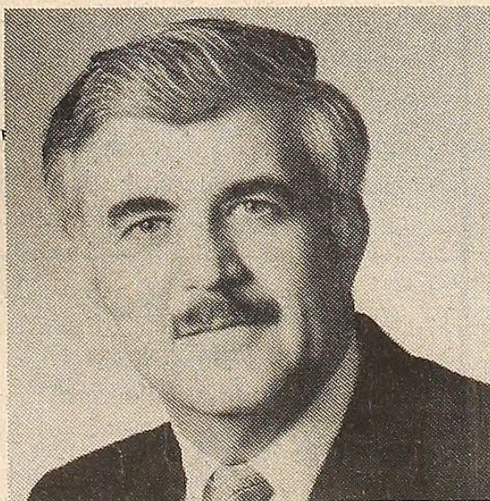

There are some people who would like to see a monument erected in Romulus in memory of Flight 255.

There are some people who would like to grandstand the whole thing. Some would like to see a monument at the crash site, some would like to see it at City Hall. Some would not like to see one erected at all. Councilman Bill Wadsworth happens to be one who would not like to see anything done until every victim's relatives have given approval of such a site.

The talk of the monument went on and on and on at the Council meeting September 8, but in reality nothing was done, nor will be for some time to come.

Wadsworth said he would vote for it if everyone else did, but he, frankly, would not like to see one. "My personal feelings about it are, number one, that the grass and trees should be put back, and everything should be left alone and life should go on." Wadsworth went on to say, "I'm not concerned about the feelings of the politicians in Wayne County, I'm concerned about the feelings of the families that lost their loved ones."

Wadsworth said he thought the original proposal for a monument came from County Commissioner Ed McNamara, and was to be put on the original crash site. Wadsworth also said it would be ridiculous to put a monument at the crash site because, according to him, in 18 months that complete area will be reconstructed anyway.

Speaking about the monument and crash site, Wadsworth said that after spending 15 hours at the site, it was a terrible thing to see and remember. But the thing that bothered him most was, "There were certain people there gloating, bragging about how many hours they had worked, and had no real genuine concern about what happened."

Wadsworth wanted it completely understood that he wants total approval of a monument from the family members of the victims before it is built, not afterwards. Even with their approval, he is not in favor of the monument. He questioned that, if there are 6,000 crashes in the next hundred years, will we build 6,000 monuments?

A MESSAGE FROM THE EDITOR

by D. A. Atkins

It was an almost empty house at Romulus High School on Meet the Candidates night. Not only did few residents attend, but, even worse, there were three candidates that made a no-show.

Jack Shick, Ronald Dubsky, and Junior Block were not at the meeting. According to Associated News, Block said he had to be out of town because of business commitments. Shick also was to be out of town, and Dubsky said he had to work.

It would seem that, if they were serious about their candidacy, they would have been there. After all, the Associated News put forth a great deal of effort to put that meeting together. One of those candidates did not even return his questionnaire to this paper. All the rest of them did, including Block and Shick. Guess who didn't?

How successful the meeting was, as far as public response is concerned, is not an issue at this point. The candidates who are costing you, the taxpayer, extra money — they are the issue.

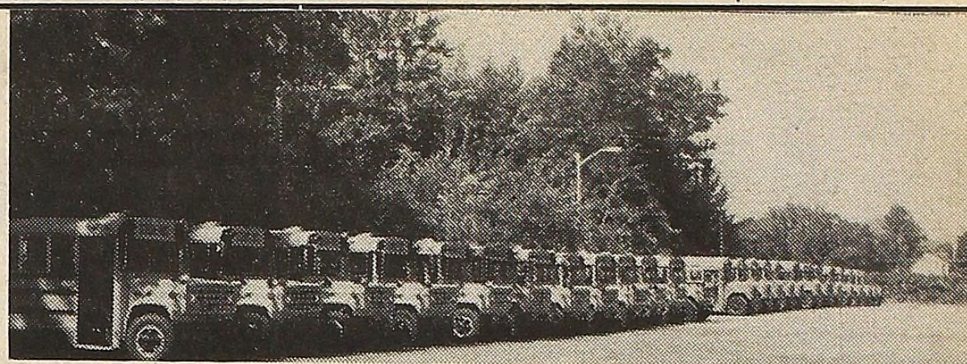

This primary election alone will cost the taxpayers of Romulus a little over ten thousand dollars. In the last election, there were only approximately 3,500 voters who used their ballots out of the total of 13,500 registered, according to the Clerk's office.

It makes no difference if there were 62 people at the meeting (which is what I counted), or if there were 100, which was the number claimed to have been there, it still was a meeting for all candidates, and all of them should have been present.

The Mayor, Beverly McAnally, was there; John Lewkowicz, Treasurer, and James Napiorkowski, a candidate for Treasurer, were there, and they didn't even have to be! Does that tell you who is interested in City Government? City employees were there, friends and relatives of some of the candidates were there, but there still were three candidates missing. Want to run for office? Run or get out of the race!

People who cost the taxpayers needless expense, knowing they are going to do it from the onset, especially in a political race where there is not only additional cost to the taxpayers, but also to the candidates who are really sincere about running for office, those people should bow out of this and any future race concerning this community.

All spruced up and ready to go

Those of you who are registered to vote should have been at that meeting. The High School Auditorium holds around 700 people — plenty of room for a lot of you. Look at the picture in this article and see if you were there.

If, because you don't get out and vote September 15, someone is elected that will make your life miserable for the next two years, remember, you were not at the meeting of the candidates, you did not vote in the Primary, and probably not the in the General Election either. You will be the cause of someone getting into office who does not belong there!

THE POLICE BEAT

The Total gas station at the corner of Wayne and Goddard was held up twice in the same week again. One hold-up occurred August 30, at 2:45 a.m., and was performed by a male asking for a bottle of pop. When the attendant returned with the pop the man had ordered, he also ordered the attendant to give him the money. He allegedly had a handgun. He fled south on Wayne Road. He was a black male, 5'10," and approximately 150 lbs.

The second robbery occurred on September 3 at 8 p.m. A black male, wearing a blue and black striped shirt, ordered the clerk to give him the money, again, allegedly at gun point. This man was approximately 5'8" and in his late 30s. He escaped on foot, running behind Wilson's Tire Store.

Nazar Koza, owner of Sammy's Party Store in downtown Romulus, was called by his alarm company and told there was a burglary in progress at his store. The police were called by the alarm company and the response was quick enough that they caught Douglas Templeton inside the store. He apparently had been drinking heavily, either before entering the store through the roof or after he had gotten inside, and was, allegedly, pretty intoxicated. Templeton, formerly of Romulus, is a 37-year-old white male, and is presently in the Wayne County Jail under a $7,500 bond. The preliminary hearing will be September 16.

HERE'S HOW TO HAVE A BETTER ROMULUS

by D. A. Atkins

It is about time, I think, that we bring the same issue to you, the public, that we have tried to bring to many of the Council members.

Those long-time residents of Romulus will remember that, in the 1940s-50s, the City of Romulus was a bustling little community. We had new-car lots, a gas station in the middle of town, two drug stores, a clothing store, a pool room, and many other things that inspired people to come downtown. As you know, there is now little, basically, to come downtown for unless you need food, auto parts or something from the hardware store.

According to some of the members of Council, the same thing happened to Romulus that happened to many other communities. Shopping centers opened up in Taylor and other places, which drew people away from Romulus. That is true. But why did it happen?

I remember when the area of Southland Shopping Center was a corn field. I remember when Westland Shopping Mall was also farm land. What made these areas more attractive than Romulus? Plain and simple, the Township fathers of that time, who represented Romulus, wanted to keep it a simple community, not looking to the future.

The one great thing you have to give McAnally credit for is that she does look to the future of the area.

Supposedly, the surveys made by groups like A&P, Sears, and some of the other major chains show there would not be enough response by the residents to support such stores. I do not believe that.

If this town had some major stores, car lots, etc., I feel the response by residents would be there.

Why don't you let us know your feelings? It seems no one ever asks you what you think anyway, so we will. Your responses will be turned over to the proper people to see if a major shopping center would be feasible or not.

Please answer the questions below completely, as every question will have something to do with decision making.

How many live in your home?

How many of that number work?

What is the average income of your family?

How many cars do you own?

What are the ages of your family members?

We feel that these youth deserve recognition for their special achievements, but, we need your help in finding these young people. The information that we need is: the person's name, address, phone number, and a short resume of the person's qualifications for being selected "IGA Youth of the Week." The nominations can either be mailed to us or just dropped off at the store.

Thank you.

IGA TO DONATE $100 FOOD CERTIFICATE AT DRAWING

The IGA store in downtown Romulus is giving away a $100 gift certificate on September 19th to some lucky person who makes a contribution to the fund for Mrs. Reddick.

This paper, for three issues now, has tried to raise the funds for a lady and her husband who are about to be thrown out of the home they have lived in for thirty-five years. There is no reason for this to happen. We have collected a little over $400 for the fund from people like yourselves, Romulus Video, Romulus Tanning Salon, The Polka Dot Party Store, employees at Daly's Drive-In Restaurant, Romulus Auto Parts, some City employees and officials, and many more too numerous to mention in one article. Some were small donations and some were large, but they were still not enough.

Guess who we have not heard from. The large corporations in our city. You know, the ones who are first in line to ask for tax abatements, TIFA funds and anything else they can get. But to donate $25 or $50 to someone in the City who is desperately in need, not a single penny!

This weekend, many of you called in your pledges to Jerry Lewis. If you would send in just half the pledge you made to Jerry, we probably would have enough money to pay for the Reddick house outright.

McDonalds, many airlines (which, by the way, take up a good portion of our city), and many other corporations that donate money to Jerry are located in our town or have branch offices here, and they have not offered anything!

It is true that Mrs. Reddick is not the only one in this town who could use help; there are many others just like her and her husband. But for the time being, we are concentrating on their plight. The fact that the Reddicks are not the only ones who could use help is the very reason we asked in another issue for a donation of $25 from each business located in our town. If every business donated that sum of money, and if every resident donated 50 cents, we could have enough money to help many people who are in need.

The IGA has offered its facilities to do whatever has to be done to collect what we need. Therefore, we will set up an antique milk can in the store, and for every time you make a donation of $1, you will receive three tickets. If you donate change, you will receive one ticket. All tickets will be dropped into a box and there will be a drawing September 19. The first-place winner will receive a $100 gift certificate, and there will also be a second- and third-place winner, with those prizes to be announced at a later date.

It seems like it is always the little guy that comes through in a time of need. It seems like the large corporations are where they are today because they could care less about the little guy. They keep it for themselves. Why get involved in a community cause?

If the Reddicks lose their home (he is 78, she is 80), I certainly hope everyone that did not help out in the cause sleeps well. I know of several people, small-business people, the working men and women of Romulus that work in factories eight hours a day, and all the others who have donated their fifty cents that should be able to sleep quite well, and we thank them. And we thank all of you who have donated or are going to donate your fifty cents or more, and thank those businesses who will donate their $25 or more. But, most of all, thanks are due to the Romulus IGA, which is doing more than its part in our feeble efforts to help the Reddicks.

Ticket distribution for donations will start on Tuesday, September 8, at 10 a.m., and will run through 5 p.m. on September 19, when the drawing will take place.

I must thank Margaret Wilson of Romulus Towers and Marilyn Masters of the Senior Center for being so kind, keeping me informed of what is going on with our senior citizens. IT WAS A L-O-O-O-O-NG BIKE RIDE

by Sylvia Dubisky

A 36-mile Bicycle Tour through Monroe County, sponsored by Monroe County Cycling and Monroe Community College, took place on Sunday, August 9, 1987.

It took us through quaint little towns, past farmlands and views of the Raisin River.

We started out at 9:30 a.m. in the rain. Fortunately, it stopped shortly after we started and we were able to take off our rain gear.

There were refreshment stops along the way, serving cold drinks, cookies, and fruits. The official lunch stop was in Dundee, where a band was entertaining the crowd. We were glad to be able to have a long rest there, and to meet other riders.

The last refreshment stop was handing out little boxes of raisins — so delicious for snacking!

Each registered rider wearing a helmet received a $1 rebate.

We received a River Raisin t-shirt and 1987 tour pin.

We finished the tour at 2 p.m. Jan Kampsen, of New Boston, also went on the tour.

I have signed up for two more tours, one in September and one in October.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY IS LOOKING FOR PICTURES

by Pearl Varner

The Romulus Historical Society held its regular business meeting on August 19, 1987. Reports were given by the committees working on the schoolhouse/museum project.

Doors have been ordered for the front of the building and the ceiling joists are being installed. A new high ceiling, similar to the old schoolhouse ceiling, will be a part of the schoolhouse/museum. The old siding presently on the schoolhouse will be retained and repaired where needed. New boards needed to replace old ones are being made. Recent windows are being covered up and the positions of the 5 original windows have been discovered and measured. Windows will then be ordered to fit these original dimensions. Help is still needed to clear the inside of partitions and walls. Please call 697-9628 if you care to volunteer.

The Society is still searching for photographs of Romulus buildings in years past. Photos of one-room schoolhouses in Romulus are much needed by the Society. The Society also needs old-style clothing, 1920s and before, to be donated. Old diaries and land deeds are other items important to the history of the area. If you have any items to donate please call 697-9628.

On September 12, 1987, the Romulus Historical Society will participate in the Arts and Crafts Fair sponsored by the Arts Council of Romulus. The fair will be held in the City Hall parking lot from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. The Society will be selling Romulus Sesquicentennial and Michigan Sesquicentennial souvenirs. Come and see us and all the arts and crafts for sale.

The September meeting of the Society will be Wednesday, September 16, at the Romulus Public Library. From the library the Society will go to the Monroe Historical Museum in Monroe. There is no admission charge. Be in the library parking lot by 7 p.m. to participate in the field trip. The public is invited to attend.

ANTIQUES BY ELSIE

by Elsie

Flea markets, yard sales, garage sales . . . they are not a paradise for information if you need a bona fide written appraisal on your antiques or items accumulated throughout the years. This is true for many of the same reasons one should avoid auction appraisals. (See the last issue of The Romulus News regarding auction appraisals.)

Bona fide antique appraisers are not flea-market/yard-sale people. They are professional people known as 'estate appraisers' or specialists either in a broad area, such as antiques or coins, or in a narrow area, such as icons, Orientals, oil paintings, etc.

Again, I stress this point — antique shops and resale shops that have dealt in antiques for over ten years (at the same location) are where you find the knowledgeable appraiser willing to give you that 'written statement' about value. If they don't, move on 'til you find those that will.

What you will find at a flea market/yard sale is:

- A very friendly and feastive atmosphere as you wander around looking over all the various commodities, trinkets, junk and just plain trash.
- Many so-called 'experts' waiting and wanting your hard-earned money for their ('one of a kind,' 'only one left,' 'belonged to my great-grandmother,' 'worth more than it's priced,' 'I never intended to sell this but I need the money because my grandmother is sick') so-called 'antiques.' A misnomer 99% of the time and a story all the time.

- A possible 'hidden treasure' underneath or behind all that junk just waiting to be discovered by you with a price tag that will take your breath away, and of course, the story.
- The same dealers and pickers that pushed you out of the way as you tried to buy that very item at another place — now trying to sell or trade it to you for an outlandish price or offering low prices for their 'mistakes.'
- Peddlers with items from their homes, garages, etc., and/or what they got from the roadside on garbage day — mostly overpriced for quality and condition or underpriced to entice you to pay them to haul their junk away.
- The unbelievable amount of buyers that are destined to be next year's peddlers because they are oblivious to the make-up of most flea markets and yard sales or whatever catchy name that lures the public to part with their cash for trash.

Tip for today: Stay away from flea markets, yard sales and the like if you are searching for appraisals. Enjoy them if you are looking for quantity and have nothing else to do with your time and/or money.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH

The Treatment of Hay Fever

by J. H. Barden, D.O.

Hay fever is the common term for allergic rhinitis. The usual symptoms of allergic rhinitis are: itching, teary eyes, runny nose, sneezing, and scratchy throat. Allergic rhinitis affects 10% to 20% of the population, which represents approximately 30 million people. Hay fever is caused by contacts with allergens, the most common of which are pollen, mold spores, dust, animal dander and feathers. These allergens usually enter the body when the patient takes a breath. The term 'hay fever' came from the widespread discomfort that was experienced by farm workers during the harvesting and haying in late summer.

Allergic rhinitis may be seasonal or last throughout the year. Its occurrence depends on which allergens the patient is allergic to and when the allergens are present in the environment. In spite of its name, hay fever does not cause a temperature elevation. Allergic rhinitis is not contagious.

Allergens are substances which cause allergies. Usually these allergic reactions are not life threatening. The body produces antibodies to protect itself from foreign substances which are inhaled.

People who suffer from allergic rhinitis experience the signs of allergies as a result of the allergen-antibody combination. Allergies tend to cluster in families. If one member of a family has allergies it is likely that other members of the family do also.

The causative mechanism of allergic rhinitis is a chain of events. Allergens contact the mucus membrane of the eyes, nose and throat after they are inhaled. The body produces allergic antibodies, which attach to mast cells in the mucus membranes. The combination causes the mast cells to release chemicals such as histamine into the blood stream. These chemicals cause the symptoms of allergic rhinitis.

Skin tests are the easiest way to find out which allergens are responsible for the problem. A small amount of allergen is injected into the skin. If the area swells and becomes red, the patient is allergic to that allergen. Usually an allergist does the skin testing.

There are many medications that usually reduce or eliminate the symptoms of hay fever. Antihistamines are the most commonly used class of drugs. They compete with histamines for mast-cell receptor sites or antibodies, and so prevent histamines from causing the allergic rhinitis. Antihistamines vary in their effectiveness from patient to patient. Sometimes several antihistamines must be tried before a satisfactory drug can be found for the patient. After the continued use of antihistamines the patient's body frequently becomes desensitized and the antihistamine becomes less effective in relieving the symptoms of hay fever. Another antihistamine must then be found. Most physicians spend a significant amount of their time in thought, finding and refining the right antihistamine for patients with allergic rhinitis.

All medications have side effects. The most common side effect of antihistamines is drowsiness. Therefore, if you become tired after taking an antihistamine, you should avoid activities which require mental alertness like driving or working around moving machinery. Alcohol and tranquilizers should be avoided when taking an antihistamine.

Cromolyn sodium is an effective drug which prevents allergic attacks. Corticoid steroids are the strongest treatment for allergic rhinitis. They also have the most severe side effects.

It is possible to test a patient and find out to which allergens he is sensitive. A serum of these allergens can be developed and given in increasing doses. This prevents the release of histamines and other substances from mast cells. Usually, because of the difficulty involved, this is used after other forms of therapy have been ineffective.

It is best whenever possible to avoid the allergens which are the cause of the problem. Hot, breezy summer afternoons offer the highest pollen count. Pollen count is lower when the weather cools or rain occurs early in the morning. Almost inevitably, the hay-fever sufferer will be more comfortable in the city than in the country because of the increased pollen in the country. Air conditioning filters out most allergens, especially if the filters are changed frequently. Sometimes a filtering face mask is helpful. Some people are so severely affected that they move to an area with a lower pollen count.

Damp woods should be avoided because of the spores in them. Newspapers should be disposed of properly. Feather pillows and down quilts and jackets should also be avoided. To avoid spores, don't rake leaves or spread mulch. The house should be dehumidified and antimildew sprays used. Air conditioning helps a lot. If the patient is sensitive to animal dander or dust, pets may need to be removed from the house. Possibly, the pet will have to be kept outside.

Several things help to eliminate dust. Mattresses, springs and pillows should be covered with a washable vinyl cover. Dust venetian blinds, vacuum and wet mop frequently. Maintain clean filters in the air conditioning and heating systems of the house.

In summary, allergic rhinitis is a frequently seen condition which can be significantly improved with the treatments currently available. If you have these symptoms, contact your physician and work with him at developing a program that is best for you.

PCHA GETS ACCREDITATION

Fred E. Blair, Chief Executive Officer of Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) announced that the five hospitals of PCHA have been granted full, three-year accreditation by the Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH).

Accreditation is a formal recognition that the hospitals substantially comply with optimal standards in all areas of operation. The PCHA hospitals are: Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, Heritage Hospital in Taylor, Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park and Seaway Hospital in Trenton.

In May, the hospitals were each visited by a three-person survey team from JCAH who reviewed records; met with physicians, board members, administrators and health professionals; inspected the facilities; evaluated policies and procedures; and studied all aspects of patient care. During the two days of intensive study, each hospital was evaluated against a lengthy set of criteria established by JCAH. The results of the survey earned PCHA hospitals three-year accreditation, the maximum period of accreditation that is granted.

In order to correct any minor deficiencies found, and because JCAH standards continue to be refined and adapted to reflect the changing practice of medicine, JCAH also submits to the hospitals lists of suggestions for improvement.

Hospitals are not required to undergo JCAH inspection. PCHA hospitals voluntarily participate in the process as a means of obtaining objective review of facilities and patient care, and obtaining the highly recognized seal of approval that is synonymous with JCAH accreditation.

Joint Commission survey teams are composed of a physician, hospital administrator, and registered nurse who are trained to evaluate the hospital based on a strict set of criteria. JCAH is governed by representatives of five national health care organizations: the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons, the American Dental Association, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

FREE BLOOD PRESSURE TEST AT ANNAPOLIS

Free blood-pressure screenings are now available at Annapolis Hospital. Screenings are held the third Wednesday of each month in the hospital's front lobby from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. No appointment is necessary.

High blood pressure is one of the most serious health problems in the United States, afflicting an estimated 50 million people. It is one of the leading causes of such problems as heart attacks, diabetes and strokes.

High blood pressure, or hypertension, has no immediate symptoms. A person with high blood pressure can feel fine and not know he or she has a problem. The only way to detect high blood pressure is through regular blood-pressure tests like the tests offered at Annapolis.

Screening for high blood pressure is a simple and painless procedure, requiring only about 10 minutes of the person's time. If hypertension is discovered, the illness can be treated through such means as diet, exercise and medication.

RE-ELECT BILL WADSWORTH ROMULUS CITY COUNCIL

Dear Romulus Resident:

In 1983 and 85 when you elected me to the City Council, I vowed to vote fair on all issues placed before me, always keeping in mind the needs of the citizens first. I believe I have.

During the 11 years I worked Romulus as a Police Officer, I feel I know and understand the problems, needs and wants of all the citizens, from the youngest to the seniors.

My wife Virginia and I have lived in Romulus for 20 years. Our sons attend school in Romulus and we think it is a fine community to raise a family.

During my first two terms we saw many positive things happen, the opening of a new Post Office, paving of new roads, new outdoor skating rinks for our children, Wick Road Development and the start and completion of Cable T.V. Many things are still undone and I ask for your support for a third term.

Along with arts and crafts, free entertainment will be provided. Plan on making a day of it as food will be available through vendors.

REGISTER FOR ADULT ED NOW!

Romulus Adult High School registration is in progress. Classes will begin Monday, September 21, with Monday, September 28, being the last day to register. Students are encouraged to register early to insure they get classes they want. Registration at the Adult Education Center will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday, while evening registration, from 6 to 8 p.m., will be held at Romulus High School Tuesday through Thursday, September 8-11, and Monday through Thursday, September 14-18.

A free health care aide program is new this year and will offer G.E.D. preparation, health care aide training, and job placement for qualified applicants. Other vocational training programs are available in office skills, culinary arts, welding, small engine repair, cosmetology and nail technology.

Adults who are considering taking the G.E.D. exam are encouraged to enroll in G.E.D. preparation classes this semester, as there will be changes in the exam next semester that will make it more difficult for many people. The biggest of these changes is the addition of essay questions to the writing skills test, which is currently all multiple choice.

If you are interested in working toward a high school diploma or G.E.D. certificate, or if you would like to acquire valuable job skills, drop by the Adult Education Center and visit with a counselor or call 941-0610 for more information.

BIG CONCERN STUDENT APATHY

by Renee Hardt, President, Romulus High School Student Government

While most Romulus High students spent their summer vacations with thoughts of school in the very back of their minds, student government prepared for the coming year. We have held several informal meetings and attended a two-day conference at the Ann Arbor Marriott in August. At this conference, we met with our school administrators and several school board members to discuss the results of the student assessment and staff assessment given last spring. We, along with the staff, feel that student apathy is our biggest concern. Many students just don't care about school and/or don't take pride in their school. Because of this, there is a lack of involvement in extracurricular activities. Our solution is to encourage our peers to get involved and to offer a wider variety of activities for them to take part in.

Student government consists of all four class councils, four National Honor Society officers, and the 'umbrella' of it all, five student government officers. With the new administration, we will have the opportunity to play a more vital role than the student governments of the past have. We are very enthusiastic about this and hope to make this year one of the very best ever.

LET'S GO EAGLES

by Lara L. Gutierrez

The 1987-88 Romulus Varsity Football Team opened its season with a disappointing loss to Taylor Truman. Coach Norbert Glover assessed his team's performance by saying "Our line didn't maintain their blocks long enough for our backs to get to the holes. We have some adjustments to make before taking on League opponent Ann Arbor Pioneer next Friday in Ann Arbor."

The Cougars scored 15 points in the first 13 minutes of the game, but then things appeared to have turned around as junior running back Arol Trinity took the second kickoff on his own 18-yard line and scampered 82 yards for the Eagles' first touchdown of the season.

The defense, led by linebackers Rick Champagne and substitute linebacker Matt Hardrick, both juniors, played well. Sophomore Eddie Miller led the Eagle defense in tackles. According to Coach Glover, "We made a lot of young mistakes. We start many sophomores and even have three freshmen playing in key positions. Our starting backfield, led by quarterback David Blanford, had absolutely no varsity experience until yesterday."

"This is a young, inexperienced group of determined young men, and by the third or fourth game I think our fans will see great improvements in this team."

Coach Glover added, "This is a team of the future, with only five seniors returning, and we expect to have some exciting football the remainder of this year and for the next three years at Romulus."

The varsity cheerleaders, led by Anna Barrientos, Shannon Connelly, Denise Feliciano, Tonya Rutledge, Jodie Miller and Judie Miller, would like to thank those who attended and cheered the Eagles on, and they would also like to see them and many more fans in the stands next Friday at Ann Arbor for the 7:30 p.m. game with Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Let's go, Eagles!

SPORTS IN ROMULUS

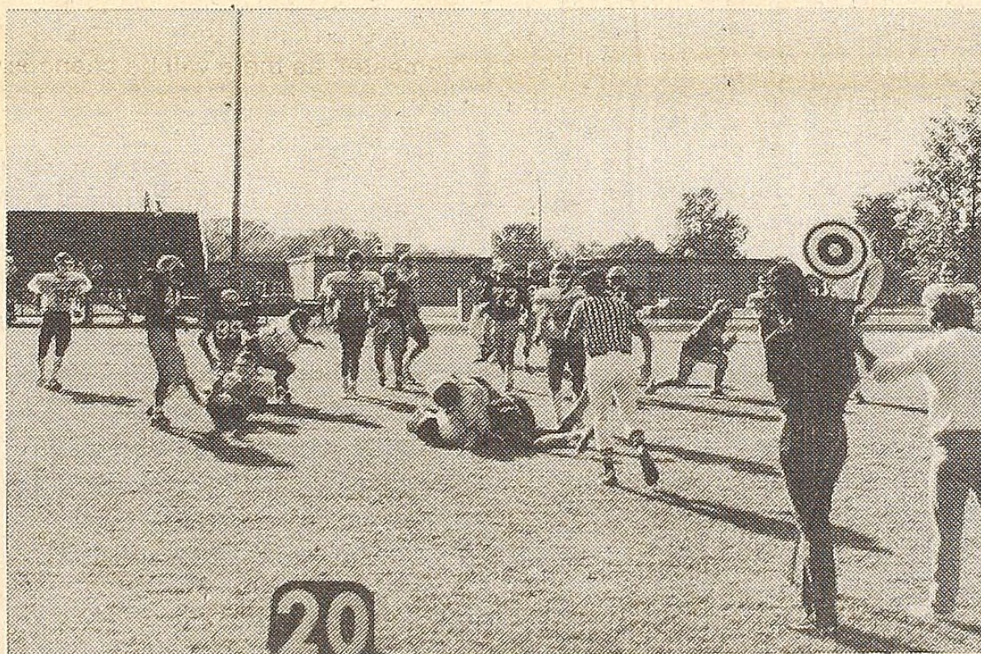

JR. VARSITY LOSES 18 - ZIP

by Lara L. Gutierrez

The Junior Varsity Eagles Team began its 1987 season with an upsetting loss to Taylor Truman, 18-0. Coach Mike Abdo said, "When you have the ball three times inside your own 20-yard line and do not score, I guess you don't deserve to win."

The Cougars scored their first touchdown early on a 'quarterback sneak' by Jesse Higgins. Higgins scored all 18 of Truman's points in the contest.

The young Eagle offense was led by quarterbacks Tim Kosikowski and Chris Jones. Eric Harris and Eben Smith picked up 70 yards on the ground but could not break the goal-line defense of the Cougars.

Despite the loss, Coach Glen Frey said, "We will be ready next week on offense and defense. Pioneer is always tough, but our young kids will learn from our mistakes in this first game."

Next game: Thursday evening at Carl Morris Field, beginning at 7 p.m. Price of admission is $2 for adults, $1 for school-age students.

MR. COLEMAN SAYS "GET INVOLVED"

by Fred Coleman, Romulus Schools Activities Director

I want to welcome all of our students and parents to the 1987-88 school year at both the High School and Junior High School.

I truly believe that students who want to go to school will achieve much better than those who 'don't like' their school. Our goal this year is to encourage all students to 'get involved' in that come from our community, but, because of the layout of Romulus, our kids need that extra little 'push' to get involved in after-school activities. I would like to challenge the Romulus parents and community members to support these super young people.

Come to the games, encourage your child or neighbor's child to get involved in their school, and, most important, is to 'be there' when possible, because I know they don't always say it or show it, but young people really do want you there and it definitely makes them feel great when you show your concern for their development.

Any questions concerning athletics, activities, parent groups, season passes, pride hats or anything to do with school programs can at least begin to be answered by calling 941-3414 and asking for Fred Coleman.

We want everyone to feel about Romulus Schools the way those of us who attend and work there do. Get involved and support our Eagle and Bulldog programs this year.

Thank you.

McAnally - Pennington "SEWER SYSTEM STINKS"

Mayor McAnally brought up a very serious problem at the Council meeting on September 8. The Public Works Commission seems to be having some problems with the County sewer drains. According to the Mayor, the odor from some of these drains is enough to knock a horse off its feet.

More neglect by the County. That seems to be an ongoing situation with anything Wayne County does lately, especially regarding the City of Romulus. Look at the weed situation, for instance, or the poor conditions of all County roads in this city.

This time, though, the County may be headed for trouble. Councilman Pennington handed in a resolution to the Council, and it was approved overwhelmingly. It is stiff, and, if followed through with, could be very effective. It is an old saying that, if you can't hurt someone any other way, hit them in the wallet. That is exactly what this resolution does.

The resolution reads as follows:

Whereas, the County Drains in the City of Romulus are in deplorable condition causing great hardship for the residents who live in proximity to such drains, and

Whereas, the City of Romulus has requested and implored the County of Wayne to fulfill its responsibility in maintaining these drains in an efficient manner, and

Whereas, the City of Romulus has the responsibility to protect the health and welfare of its citizens, and intends to do so in whatever manner it must, and

Whereas, work on drains with the County Drain Districts are under the sole purview of the County of Wayne,

Now therefore be it resolved that the City of Romulus officially notifies the County of its demand for a workable program of drain maintenance and improvement within the City of Romulus to be presented within the next 90 days,

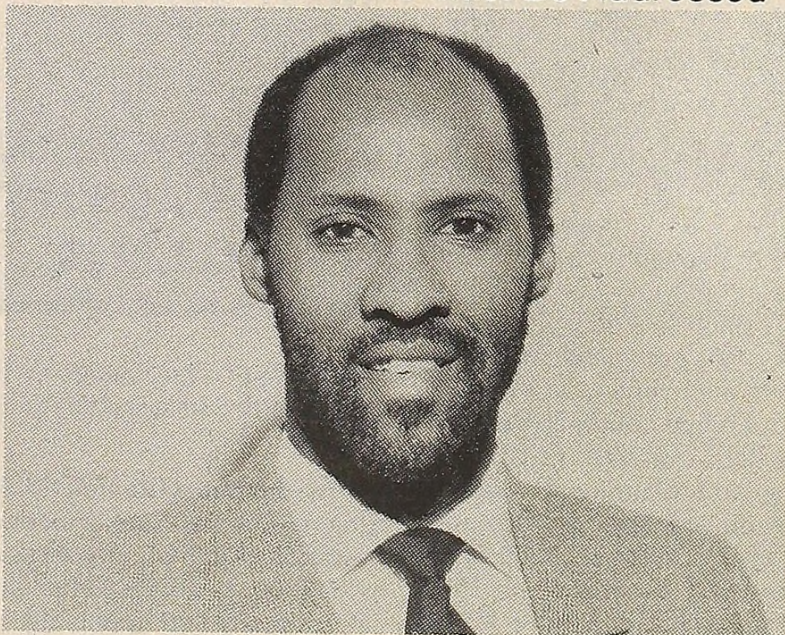

And further resolves that if such program is not proposed within 90 days, the City of Romulus will undertake the project itself and deduct the cost of same from the distributions of County taxes paid by the citizens of Romulus.

An excellent resolution with one exception. There should be some sort of penalty to the County for not doing what they are supposed to do, when they are supposed to do it.

Congratulations are in order for the Mayor and Mr. Pennington. Now let's follow through with it. We may get more done with actions like this.

What office are you running for?
City Council
Are you an incumbent?
Yes
Office:
City Council
How long in office?
6 yrs.

What are your qualifications?
Lifetime resident. 6 yrs. exp. I care for the City and the residents.

If returned/elected to office, what is your first most important goal?

Hire more police officers. Taking care of crime has to be a top priority.
What is your second most important goal?

Continued development.

What are your feelings on Tax Abatement?

I think they can be good if you don't go overboard. And if they mean jobs for our residents I go along with 6 yrs. usually.

What is your stand on TIFA (now in litigation)?

Well if found to be legal I think it can be a good tool to bring business and development to the City at no cost to the residents.

How do you feel about the present crime rate in Romulus?

Like all cities at this time there is crime but we're working hard to get more police to handle the crime problems.

How would you go about seeing more police officers hired?

I think we have to figure out a way to get residents to apply so that we don't have people leaving all the time. I believe residents would stay with the department.

What is your stand on millage increases for:

Schools:

I think some are necessary but people just can't afford any more taxes.

City Operations:

(no response)

What would you do to improve downtown Romulus?

More shopping and more stores and shops.

What single major change would you most like to see in city government?

Terms of office from 2 to 4 years.

Do you think the hotels/motels should be charged Room Tax, and if so, where should the money be allocated?

Yes I do. There are a lot of areas the money could be used: general fund, police and fire, recreation.

Do you feel that we do/do not need at least one major recreational center for our youth?

I definitely believe there should be more recreation. I would like to see a center.

If so, how would you suggest going about it?

At this time the City can't afford one. But it should be up to the people if they want one.

How would you handle the juvenile problems in this city?

I think the police have to handle that. But I think the parents have to take responsibility for their children.

How can we better handle law enforcement on drug abuse?

Go to the source. Get the drug dealers. More police working on drug problems. Something has to be done.

What would you do about ordinance enforcement?

I think we need a larger department to handle all the problems.

Community development?

We have to start bringing in residential development. It's being worked on at this time.

What would you do about County property neglect?

Try to get a better working relationship with County officials.

Why do you want to hold the office for which you are running?

To continue growth and development of the City.

Encourage more development housing, apartments and condominiums. Bring people and industry, shopping center and related service industry.

What are your feelings on Tax Abatement?

Mixed. In favor of those who create jobs for Romulus citizens.

What is your stand on TIFA (now in litigation)?

Wait and see what's the outcome in the courts.

How do you feel about the present crime rate in Romulus?

Not satisfied. Think we can do better if our police officers were residents of Romulus.

How would you go about seeing more police officers hired?

Hire more. There's plenty available. Many communities (Ecorse for example) are laying off police because of cutback in Federal grants.

THE CANDIDATES SPEAK OUT

Subject to the vote of the people. Laws need to be changed to a different way of funding (State laws).

City Operations:

Open-door policy. Be available to the public. List telephone where the public can get in touch with them. Open discussion on public matters.

What would you do to improve downtown Romulus?

Needs cooperation of elected officials, business and industry. Leaders develop a plan, seek finance and approach with positive attitude (we can do and we will do).

What single major change would you most like to see in city government?

Change City image.

Do you think the hotels/motels should be charged Room Tax, and if so, where should the money be allocated?

Yes. Police, roads, recreation.

Do you feel that we do/do not need at least one major recreational center for our youth?

Yes.

If so, how would you suggest going about it?

Promote, plan and ask public for financial support (bond issue).

How would you handle the juvenile problems in this city?

Create public work program.

How can we better handle law enforcement on drug abuse?

Crack down.

What would you do about ordinance enforcement?

Train personnel in proper law enforcement.

Community development?

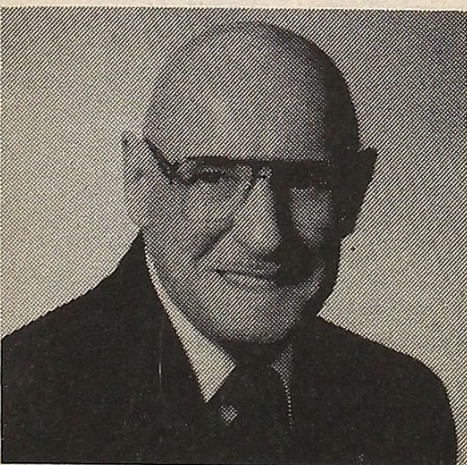

Promote and seek more State and Federal grants.

What would you do about County property neglect?

Demand County give same attention they give State highways and right-of-ways to County-owned property in Romulus.

Why do you want to hold the office for which you are running?

Because I am concerned about my community, its people, health, safety and welfare.

What office are you running for?

Treasurer

Are you an incumbent?

Yes

Office:

Treasurer

How long in office?

8 years

What are your qualifications?

Eight years as Treasurer, two years as Councilman, three years as Water and Sewer Commissioner.

If returned/elected to office, what is your first most important goal?

To continue quality service for all citizens and taxpayers. Dedication to the Treasurer's position, and the insistence that City funds be properly spent in accordance to the Charter of the City of Romulus.

What is your second most important goal?

To complete installation of computer system in the Treasurer's office. What are your feelings on Tax Abatement?

Tax Abatement saved the jobs and seniority of two manufacturing units in the City of Romulus — the employees of Kelsey-Hayes and the Detroit Diesel Allison. Tax Abatement has provided many new jobs for the citizens of Romulus. The legislators in Lansing were very wise to stop the work, jobs, that were leaving the State, and I certainly approve their action.

What is your stand on TIFA (now in litigation)?

TIFA, if proved legal, provides a method for communities to encourage development of roads, sewers and storm drains. It removes the burden from new development.

How do you feel about the present crime rate in Romulus?

Crime is a serious problem for all communities. We must work at reducing crime on a full-time basis. Drugs and crime are related, they go together. But I'm proud to say citizens, police department, and drug-abuse programs in Romulus have all come together, and are now making progress. Continued cooperation will make a big change in our community. Much crime and drug abuse also reflect and affect our city, by unscrupulous individuals that frequent the airport area — adding extra responsibility to the Romulus Police Department.

How would you go about seeing more police officers hired?

I would insist the City hire Romulus citizens for the Police Department. The Police Cadet program is excellent.

What is your stand on millage increases for:

Schools:

School funds should not be used on TIFA projects. Millage increases would not be necessary.

City Operations:

There is room for improvement.

What would you do to improve downtown Romulus?

Continue the process that has taken place.

What single major change would you most like to see in city government?

(no response)

Do you think the hotels/motels should be charged Room Tax, and if so, where should the money be allocated?

Yes, if legally possible.

Do you feel that we do/do not need at least one major recreational center for our youth?

Yes, a major recreational center is very important for our youth.

If so, how would you suggest going about it?

A City lottery.

How would you handle the juvenile problems in this city?

Provide more recreation opportunities.

How can we better handle law enforcement on drug abuse?

Drug abuse is a personal problem, and difficult to deal with unless the abuser is caught or seeks help. Through reliable channels, much help is available to the abuser and his family.

What would you do about ordinance enforcement?

Ordinance enforcement protects the development and growth of the City of Romulus, and should be enforced.

Community development?

Romulus has many opportunities to develop and grow, to become the city that the citizens can be proud of.

What would you do about County property neglect?

Insist that the County use funds properly and for the benefit of the citizens of Romulus.

Why do you want to hold the office for which you are running?

I enjoy working with the citizens of Romulus, providing them with any assistance that is necessary or helpful.

I am concerned for the community. The job as Treasurer is very important; without sound financial management, the foundation of our community is easily shaken. I feel that I have proven to the community by hours of dedication to the trust which the people have placed in my hands by electing me to the office of Treasurer.

What office are you running for?

Office:

N/A

How long in office?

N/A

What are your qualifications?

Committed, articulate, knowledgeable, past Pres. Romulus Board Ed., civic minded. B.A. Wayne State.

If returned/elected to office, what is your first most important goal?

My first most important goal would be to maintain and improve the quality of neighborhoods. I would support to eradicate blight and abandoned houses.

What is your second most important goal?

My second most important goal would be to develop police mini-stations around the City to better combat crime. Also, improve police and community relations.

What are your feelings on Tax Abatement?

I believe tax abatements are good in order to generate jobs and increase property values. Long term abatements should be limited if it does not benefit the City in the long run.

What is your stand on TIFA (now in litigation)?

There are too many unanswered questions but my stand would be make sure that Romulus citizens are protected.

How do you feel about the present crime rate in Romulus?

I feel that any level of crime in the City of Romulus is too high. My proposal for police mini-stations would improve police response time to calls from citizens, and put all sectors of the City under some police protection at all times.

How would you go about seeing more police officers hired?

I would like to see an additional ten to twelve more police officers with a majority of them from the City of Romulus. I believe there are qualified people in our city.

What is your stand on millage increases for:

Schools:

School millages are necessary until the State of Mich. get smart and change the way schools are financed. Presently school budgets are financed through property tax, which is unstable and unequal throughout the State.

City Operations:

City operations could always be improved through better communication with the businesses and community. Some areas are also better maintained than others. This could definitely use some improvement.

What would you do to improve downtown Romulus?

I like the rural, homey atmosphere of downtown Romulus. However, I would encourage and support businesses in the Downtown Area to modernize their buildings (like the old feed store is doing) to make them more accessible to seniors and handicapped citizens.

What single major change would you most like to see in city government?

I would like to see elected officials serve 3 yr. terms.

Do you think the hotels/motels should be charged Room Tax, and if so, where should the money be allocated?

Yes, I think hotels/motels should be charged room tax. The revenues generated by the tax should be divided evenly between the City and schools.

Do you feel that we do/do not need at least one major recreational center for our youth?

Yes, we need a major rec. center for all citizens of Romulus, not just for our youth. Romulus needs a rec. complex that has a swimming pool, hockey rink, ballroom dance floor, basketball courts and a banquet room for weddings and balls.

If so, how would you suggest going about it?

First, ask the citizens of Romulus what do they want and need. Secondly, the complex could be funded w/ bonds, Fed/State monies, businesses, etc.

How would you handle the juvenile problems in this city?

I would assist to develop a comprehensive program that would include State, City, School, Church, Civic and other community organizations. Presently there are few activities organized for teenagers in Romulus. Most youth organizations center around school functions. This is not enough. The total community should be organizing events to combat juvenile problems.

How can we better handle law enforcement on drug abuse?

We can better handle law enforcement on drug abuse through intensive educational programs starting at the elementary level. Also, the courts should give stronger jail sentences to convicted drug sellers.

What would you do about ordinance enforcement?

I strongly believe that neighborhoods should reflect the City in a positive way. I will support and enforce all ordinances in the City of Romulus, especially ordinances that cover wrecked and junk cars and unkempt properties.

Community development?

Elected officials, I believe, do not provide enough leadership in any areas of community dev. Wayne Co. officials talk about airport dev. and business growth as though there is no Romulus or citizens.

What would you do about County property neglect?

Support and enforce what powers as a City to make the County clean up their property.

Why do you want to hold the office for which you are running?

As a lifetime resident of Romulus I see a need and feel a commitment to become actively involved once again in govt. As past president, treasurer, board member of the Romulus Board of Ed., my experience has taught and helped me in working w/groups and that experience can be used effectively with City govt. as well. Romulus is a unique city w/unique citizens. Together we can make a difference. I want to be a part of that team that does. We live in a city that has a lot going for it and that has a lot of possibilities. Give me that opportunity to work for those possibilities.

What are your feelings on Tax Abatement?

Reduction of property taxes — more taxes from Metro Airport and big business.

TIFA funds should be returned to Treasurer's office as administrator, as City Charter states.

Crime rate is too high.

How would you go about seeing more police officers hired?

Do not need more officers. Need more quality officers and better supervision.

No increase needed. System will have to stop wasteful spending.

What single major change would you most like to see in city government?

What would you do about ordinance enforcement?

Ordinance dept. needs more help. They are understaffed.

Community development?

Romulus needs rec. center to accommodate all citizens including youth programs as well as senior activities and entertainment center.

What would you do about County property neglect?

County should be forced to clean up their properties or stand in violation.

Why do you want to hold the office for which you are running?

Have been in Romulus for 65 yrs. Have seen a lot of changes in that time, some good some bad. Would like to have the opportunity to make future changes for the better.

City Clerk

Are you an incumbent?

Yes

Office:

Clerk

How long in office?

4 years

What are your qualifications?

I believe the knowledge and experience gained in the clerks office since 1973, sufficiently qualifies me to hold the position of City Clerk.

If returned/elected to office, what is your first most important goal?

To complete computerization of the office.

What is your second most important goal?

To train the entire staff to handle all applications of the computer.

What are your feelings on Tax Abatement?

Tax Abatements have contributed significantly to the growth of this community, and with the creation of several hundred jobs.

What is your stand on TIFA (now in litigation)?

I have not had sufficient experience with its long term effect to comment, as with everything it has its advantages and disadvantages.

How do you feel about the present crime rate in Romulus?

The City of Romulus is unique in that geographically, we are the second largest city in Wayne County, we have a governmental entity within a governmental entity, although our tax paying resident population is 24,857, our non tax paying transient population is more than 8 million annually, requiring considerably more police protection and other services.

How would you go about seeing more police officers hired?

The affordable, qualified, certified and well educated police officer is a rare commodity, we advertise continuously within the tri county area, however, we must reach further perhaps as far as Chicago, New York, and Dallas, etc.

What is your stand on millage increases for:

Schools:

N/A

City Operations:

Millage increase for city operations must go to the people, it can only be handled by the vote of the people.

What would you do to improve downtown Romulus?

It requires more than city officials and volunteer workers, a commitment from the downtown business people is needed, they must make their businesses desirable on the outside in order to encourage people to want to see what is in the inside.

What single major change would you most like to see in city government?

We have been moving ahead in the last 4 years at such an accelerated pace, I believe those plans and ideas which are currently on the drawing board do not require any major changes at this point.

Do you think the hotels/motels should be charged Room Tax, and if so, where should the money be allocated?

Have not given sufficient thought to make comment at this time.

Do you feel that we do/do not need at least one major recreational center for our youth?

Yes, we should have a major recreational center for youth but also a health and fitness facility which would include a swimming pool that caters to all ages.

If so, how would you suggest going about it?

Float bonds.

How would you handle the juvenile problems in this city?

Request youth groups to participate organizations.

How can we better handle law enforcement on drug abuse?

By more participation in Neighborhood Watch Program.

What would you do about ordinance enforcement?

Hire more ordinance officers and encourage and motivate private property owners.

Community development?

I feel the city is progressing well.

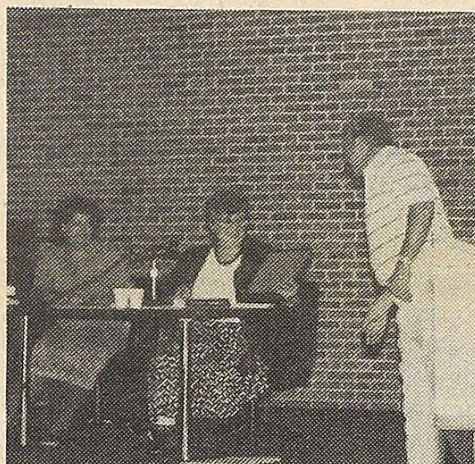

What would you do about County property neglect?

Request that the county direct a work program toward the clean-up of neglected property.

Why do you want to hold the office for which you are running?

Because I have the experience and qualifications necessary to do an effective job.

GIRLS VARSITY REBUILDING IN '87'

Lara L. Gutierrez

The 1987-88 Varsity Girls Basketball program is in a rebuilding year. After losing point guard Brenda Lidell to Sienna Heights College this year, Coach Ron Bayes said, "We have to find someone in our program this year to get the ball up the court and try to make up Brenda's 18 points per game from last year."

Coach Bayes is looking for guard help from Carletta Jackson and Pam Breeding, but also says, "Our new young lady, Rochelle Hawk, looks like she could help us greatly in this position." Stephanie Seabolt and Malaika Williams could also break into the guard position this season.

The front court is led by senior Captain Reenie McNeil, 6'1", who should, when combined with 6'2" junior Laurie Berlinn, make the rebounding corps pretty solid. Chrissy Barker will assist at forward.

"With a little help in the backcourt this year we will do fine, but our inexperience may hurt us in some games," Coach Bayes reports. "Adrian is probably our league favorite, and we open at home with them on Thursday, September 17. I guess we will find out then how things are going to go this year. We should gel by mid season, and I would like to encourage students and parents to come and see these girls. We have some really super girls in our program this year, and, with a little support from the school and community, these girls will represent Romulus' program very well this season."

JULIE PRICE IS J.V. BASKETBALL COACH

by Lara L. Gutierrez

This year's Junior Varsity Team consists of nine freshmen, three sophomores, and a brand-new coach in the Romulus Women's Athletic Department.

Coach Julie Price attended Cherry Hill High School and Oakland University, where she excelled in basketball and softball. Julie is currently working as a substitute teacher in Romulus Schools, but says, "I hope to have a permanent job here someday, as I really enjoy working with the Romulus students and parents. Having worked in other school districts as a substitute has taught me how much I enjoy being a part of this system."

Julie is looking for a better than .500 season from her young team. "We have some real talent on this team, but we are young and we will make some freshman mistakes."

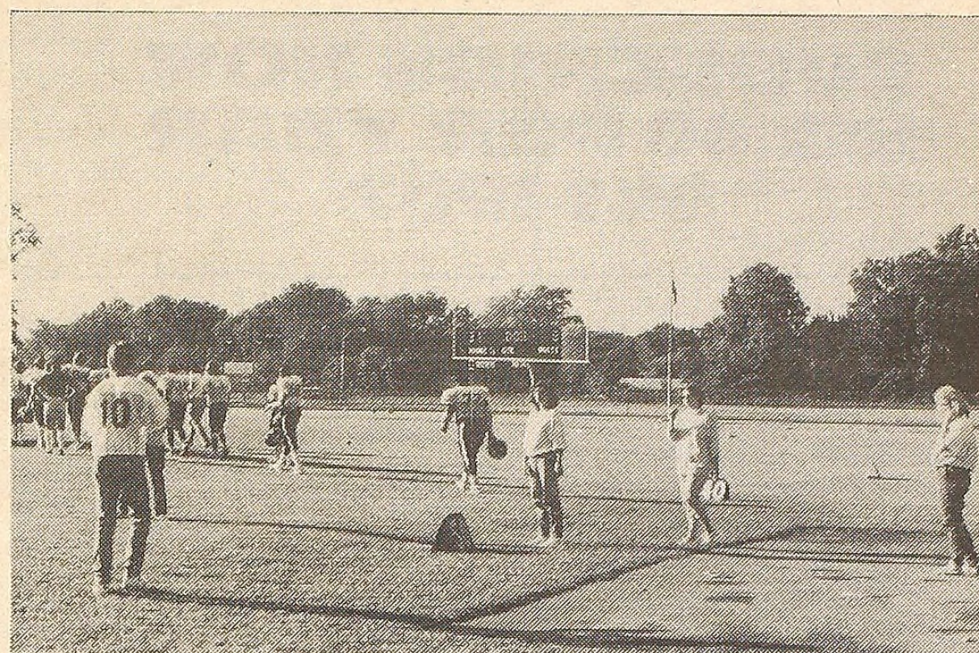

This year's team will be mainly led by freshman Susan Molenda, the Hopewell twins, Angela and Kimberly, Jennifer Daniel, Michele Scarrow, Hattie Forbes and Angela Slawinski.

This group had a 12-2 record at the Junior High last season, and, with Julie's leadership, should have a very fun and successful season this year.

Their first game is September 8 against Wayne at Wayne, and our first home game is versus Adrian on September 17.

Hope to see everyone there!

EVER HEARD OF THE "BILITY?"

by Dr. Dan Elwart

Dr. Dan is a Chiropractor, married, and the father of eight children. Dr. Dan, along with his father, Dr. Ray Elwart, runs the Elwart's Computer Centre in the same building as the clinic.

Every other issue, you'll see our Chiropractic ad and an Elwart's Computer Centre ad. A lot of you are probably wondering what one has to do with the other.

About 12 years ago, we realized that we needed some help with our paperwork. With the insurance companies' acceptance of Chiropractic, it caused a tremendous amount of additional paperwork. It was necessary, but very time consuming. As we looked at computers to possibly solve this problem, we saw that the prices were out of the question. Prices of $125,000 and up, and still having to program it ourselves, convinced us that there must be a better way. Without going into all the details, I shall just say that, after spending thousands of hours (ask my wife!) writing programs for the Chiropractic profession and installing computers in doctors' offices all over the U.S., we came to understand them pretty well.

When we resumed our practice in Michigan several years ago, we were constantly being asked about computers — where to get the best deal, what kind was best, who could be trusted, etc. We figured we would help others and help ourselves by opening up a store that would cater to the needs of the people in this area. And, with that short but confusing explanation out of the way, I would like to offer you some advice on the purchase of a computer. You can apply my rules anywhere, with any dealer, with any type of computer.

When you're looking for a computer, you need to look for its aBILITY:

CompatiBILITY
AffordaBILITY
ReliaBILITY
ExpandaBILITY
AvailaBILITY

Rule #1 — CompatiBILITY

Every now and then, you'll see a Coleco Adam Computer system for sale. It originally came with everything you need to compute with, including the printer, for under $500. Unfortunately, it did not sell well, and Coleco discontinued it. You can now find them selling for a fraction of the cost. The problem is, you can't use programs (instructions) from any other computer. The company doesn't make them anymore, so it is really a dodo bird. When you're looking for a computer, look for one that has lots and lots of programs written for it. The more programs there are, the more people buy it, and therefore the more programs that are written for it.

Rule #2 — AffordaBILITY

No matter how great the computer is, if you can't afford it, then it just sits in the store window. Generally, try to buy the best you can afford. Occasionally, you'll have a friend who wants to sell you his computer at a 'low, low price.' If it's dirt cheap (half the original current selling price or less) and they still make programs for it, then buy it! Especially if you're just getting into computers. It'll be a good way to learn and you can always give it to the kids or someone else if you decide to get a better one, or decide computers aren't for you. Remember, computers are constantly being upgraded — if you pay top dollar, you'll never be able to get your money out of it.

Rule #3 — ReliaBILITY

As in any purchase, try to buy a computer that can be fixed without having to send it across the U.S. or overseas. A common computer usually has lots of parts available, and lots of people who can service it. Even if you don't know anything about a computer, find out if it can be purchased at a different dealer, just in case your dealer doesn't have the parts. If no one else carries parts then you had better look somewhere else. With printers especially, try to buy a name brand unless you get a great 'deal.' We have a printer in our store that we've given lots and lots of use for about 11 years, and it still looks new!

Rule #4 — ExpandaBILITY

The most common thing we hear is, "Oh, I only need a computer to do such and such." Our experience shows that, very shortly, most people want to do more than they originally planned. Why? Because after they use it, they become more aware of just what a computer can do, and then they want to take advantage of it. So Rule #4 — probably the most important — is don't buy it if you can't expand it! What do I mean when I say expand? Make sure that you can add more memory or storage capabilities, make it go faster, add a light pen (a special pen that allows you to 'write' on the computer screen), a bar-code reader (like they have at the stores), or another printer, or hook up to another computer through the phone. The list is endless, and so are the uses of a computer.

Rule #5 — AvailaBILITY

I almost forgot this one, but don't you forget! When the new computers come out, the most common phrase you'll hear is, "They're gonna have such and such to go with it." Maybe, but I doubt it. Time has shown that 'vaporware' (you know, things that aren't really there) is a commonly promised, but rarely delivered, item. Don't buy a computer thinking that a certain program or device is going to be developed for it. If the computer doesn't sell, it won't be around, and neither will the 'vaporware.' Those funny little sayings like 'a bird in the hand . . .' and such are not so funny after you've invested hundreds or even thousands of dollars on equipment, only to have it discontinued because of a lack of interest. Let someone else be on the 'leading edge'; you be the 'tried and true.' If you think I never buy the 'latest,' well, think again. I've been stung so many times it's pitiful. But if we could just learn from these five simple rules, we'll do just fine.

I hope this will help you some. Remember to look at a computer's aBILITY before you buy!

BLISTERS CALLOUSES COULD BE DANGEROUS

by Dr. Jeffrey A. August

This month I will talk about some common foot problems that everyone comes across at one time or another.

Blisters are fluid-filled cushions that form when the top layer of skin is damaged by friction from shoes and/or socks. To prevent blisters, you can wear well-fitting socks and shoes and keep your feet dry. The treatment for a blister is to either remove the cause, change shoes, or treat the blister. Do not break the blister — it can lead to an infection. Let it break on its own and then treat it with soap and water, topical antibiotic ointment and a band-aid.

Corns are small areas of thickened dead skin that develop as a way to protect underlying tissue which rubs up against protruding bones or when two bones rub together. A hard corn is a cone-shaped mass that is usually found on the tops of toes. A soft corn is a moist, rubbery mass that is found between toes that continually rub together. To prevent both types of corns, wear shoes long and wide enough for your toes. The treatment for corns is to pad the areas around the corns, but never over the corns. Manual debridement with a pumice stone or abrasive sponge will remove some of the dead skin mass. Never take a sharp edge to pare down the mass. A slight cut can lead to infection and the loss of a digit. Application of lamb's wool or a sponge between toes can buffer the areas of discomfort.

Warning: avoid over-the-counter corn preparations — they remove the corn and any healthy skin touching the corn. A permanent solution to the corn is to have the enlarged bones reduced by your podiatrist.

Calluses are like corns, accumulations of hard, dead skin that protect the feet from friction and excess pressure. The difference is that they are found on the bottom of your feet, whereas corns are found on top of your feet. Wearing the correct shoes and cushioned innersoles will prevent calluses. The treatment for calluses is the same as that for corns.

Next month we will learn more about common foot problems.
